John T. Goolrick made the address of wel-come. He said: "I shall not deal in any hackneyed or florid platitudes in order to express and emphasize the warmth of our express and emphasize the warmth of our welcome. Whether we wore the blue or the gray—whether we fought under Grant or Lee—we are fellow-citizens of a grand republic. The war is over. Dead are its animosities and also its angers. Its sacred and solemn memories alone live. No one appreciates that the struggle in which we were engaged for four versus over more than the hors. for four years is over more than the boys who were the blue and the gray. The only people who do not appreciate that fact are those who commenced to fight after the war When we surrendered we swore a soldier's oath that we would give full alle-giance to this grand republic, and we stand ready to defend its honor and guard its inready to defend its honor and guard its in-terest from the attacks of all foce, whether within or without its borders. I was a private sodier in the confederate army, and I bear willing testimony to the bravery and the deeds of daring of the boys who wore the blue, and the handsomest compliment that I can pay them is to say that they had foemen worthy of their steel. The merit of their victory lies in the bravery, the heroism, and patriotism of the boys who were the gray. As the bloed of the martyrs is the seed and seal of the church, so I believe that the blood of the boys who were the blue and the gray.

Commissioner Loring, Gen. Longstreet, Gen. Belford, of Colorado; Col. Herbert, of Alabama; Congressman Cutcheen, of Michigan, and Gen. Resecrans responded. At 3 p. m. the whole party, with bands playing and flags flying, marched to Marie's heights. When they arrived at the extreme right of the range of hills (now the National cometery), the most commanding position of the range, Col. Herbert mounted a bench and gave an account of the operations of the confederate ecount of the operations of the confederate

The famous stone wall of Mary's heights The famous stone wall of Mary's heights was held on this occasion by a South Carolina brigade. "I walked over the field after the battle," said Col. Herbert, "and walked on dead bodies. I never in my life saw the dead so thick." Gen. Hunt then pointed out the position of the federal artillery on the Stafford hills, and gave full statistics of the number of guns, and a detailed account of the building of bridges and the crossing of Gen. Burnside's army. Gen. Longstreet narrated in detail the operation of the confederate forces and their plans both

Col. Jackson, aid to Gen. Newton, who led the attack, closed the evening with a full report, and the 1st army corps marched back to Fredericksburg. To-morrow they will go to Chancellorsville.

BICYCLE RACES.

The Programme of the Events to Take Place To-morrow.

The races of the Capital Bicycle club which take place at Athletic park to-morrow afternoon will be the finest ever given by the club. The field of entries is very large, and comprises such well-known flyers as Chickering, of New Jersey; Landy, of Cincinnati; Runyon, of Baltimore, and Borden, Hanna, and Stewart, of Washington, besides a host of new riders who try their luck in the novices and handicap races. Among the most promising of these are Rhodes, Robertson, Gill and McCoy, of the Capital club; Crist, Flathers and Smith, unattached. The pole match on star bicycles has been extensively noticed by the wheel press, and will be one of the most interesting events of the day. The Capital club boys pin their faith on Rex Smith and Will Robertson, and the New Rex Smith and Will Robertson, and the New Jersey team will probably be composed of Finley and Chickering, both well-known riders. The match will be for the best three goals in five. The club drill will be given by a squad of sixteen members of the club. The Citizens and Ixion clubs, of New York; the Buckeye club, of Columbus, Ohio, the Maryland club, of Baltimore, and others will be represented in the nevade which will start represented in the parade, which will start from the club house at 2:30 p. m. The most interesting event of the great league most next Monday and Tuesday will be the parade Tuesday morning. The Capital club, having been officially invited, will participate, and the Washingtonians will have an opportunity of seeing their crack club in contrast with the leading clubs of the north and west.

Carroll Institute.

At the regular Thursday evening entertainment of the Carroll institute last evening an entertaining programme was rendered. After the entertaiment was concluded the After the entertainment was concluded the institute proceeded to elect delegates to the convention of the Catholic Young Men's National union, to be held in Baltimore June 18 and 18. E. J. Harman. Thomas H. Byrnes, and Henry W. Sohon were elected as allegates, and D. J. Murphy, F. McNerhany, and George Bogus were elected as alternates.

One of Watterson's Constituents. An old lady drove up to the white house yesterday afternoon and, announcing herself "Queen Lucinda, from Louisville," asked to be put in possession of the mansion. She brought several trunks with her, and seemed much disappointed when she was taken away by a policeman.

Great game to-day, Athletic Park.

He Was Too Funny, A restaurant keeper named James Cava-nagh pulled out his pistol on the street yesterday afternoon and fired it in the air. He was immediately arrested and taken to the fifth precinct station house, where he left $20 collateral.

Special Rehearant,

A special rehearsal of the three classes to gether of the Church Choral union will be held this evening, at 6:45, in the lecture room of the Congregational church, The union now numbers 456 members.

AT IVY CITY COURSE.

A Day of Royal Sport, With the Best Attendance of the Meeting.

The Favorite, Gath, Falls in the Steeplechase and is Killed.

Enight of Ellerslie Wins the Army and Navy Stakes Like a Great Race Horse.

To-Day's Programme, With the Washington Cup for the Chief Feature.

Yesterday was emphatically a red letter day for the National Jockey club. From a racing point of view the weather was per-fection, the track safe and fairly fast, and the attendance as numerous, or perhaps greater, than the club has ever had gathered greater, than the club has ever had gathered on its grounds. The fence along the inner field in front of the grand stand was lined with elegant equipages filled with gay parties of ladies and gentlemen, the grand stand was filled to overflowing, and the platforms in front of the stand and around the betting stands were a perfect bedlam of excited, perspiring, masculine humanity. The betting was fast and furious. The "tip" givers, Jack and Goodrich, drove a roaring trade, and, as they spotted the winners in several instances, the believers in their racing lore will no doubt be legion to-day. The bookmakers were pretty badly peppered on most of the races, so that it is possible their profits footed up on the wrong side at the end of the day's work. The pronounced success of the day was a fitting tribute to the efficient management of the course. There are few, if any, better conducted tracks in the country than Ivy City. Everything possible to do for the comfort, of visitors is done. The stand is excelled by few in its appointments. The starting is, taken all in all, particularly good, and the announced programmes are always carried out with the regularity of clockwork. And it is no more than justice to say that Washington fully appreciates all this, for there is no better patronized track, all things considered, than ity City. on its grounds. The fence along the inner lvy City.

The first race of the day was a spin of six furlongs, for which the speedy Texas horse Giendower was installed a good favorite, but he was unfortunately left at the post and was never in the race, so far as any chance of winning was concerned. When the flag fell Vinton was in front, with all the horses well up except Glendower. He kept in front to near up except Glendower. He kept in front to near the three-quarters, where lots passed him, followed by Inconstant, Quobec, and Constantina. A rapid run down the stretch and a beautiful finish resulted in Constantina winning by a haif length from lota, who was lapped by Quebec, Inconstant a good fourth.

For the second race, a dash of a mile and a quarter, a great tip was out on Torpedo, and a good many cautious speculators were taken in and done for by the supposed "good thing." In fact neither of the two favorites, Torpedo and Infanta, were among the placet thing." In fact neither of the two favorites, Torpedo and Infanta, were among the placed horses; Davis & Hall meeting with a turn of good luck by the success of War Eagle. To a beautiful start Torpedo took the lead and kept to the three-quarters, with Infanta running second, and War Eagle third, all the horses being in a bunch. Rounding the turn for home a determined struggle began, the whip being freely applied by all the jockeys. War Eagle had the foot of his opponents, however, and won a finely contested race by a length from Ten Strike, with Compensation a good third.

The third race, for the Army and Navy stakes, was the great event of the day, and amply demonstrated that in Knight of Ellerslie Maj. Doswell owns a colt that, with good health, will rank among the great horses of the decade. Many old and experienced turfmen are of opinion that he is as good anything that has shown for years past, and certainly the consummate ease with which he defeated such tried good ones as Greystone, Tolu, and Welcher, gives promise of a right defeated such tried good ones as Greystone, Longstreet narrated in dotall the operation of the confederate forces and their plans both before and after the battle. "A truce was called," said Gen. Longstreet, "after the fight to bury the dead. I have seen a great many battlefields, but none so shocking as this. The dead were buried in numerous pits, 8 feet deep and 30 feet square."

Gen. Newton gave an account of the second Barry's heights by the troops of Gen. Sedgwich's corps. Under his command the caps were taken off the guns, and the attack was made with fixed bayonets.

Col. Jackson, aid to Gen. Newton, who led the attack, closed the evening with a full growd into a ferment of excitement by forgcrowd into a ferment of excitement by lorging steadly past his opponents, so that at the three-quarters he was in the lead, and coming on steadily he won untouched by whip or spur, while the stand resounded with cheers. Scott's good colt, Greystone, surprised the knowing ones by defeating Welcher for second place, Tolu being last of all. Won by two learths, three between second and third. two lengths, three between second and third second place, Tolu being last of all. Won by two lengths, three between second and third. The fourth race was at mile heats between the veterans Jim Nelson, Hilarity, and Keno, Burch's stable scoring its first win of the meeting with Nelson. Blaylock rode Nelson in fine style, and won both heats with case, with Hilarity, the favorite, second in each. The fifth race, at seven furlongs, had nine starters, and was won, after a close finish with Mordaunt, by Polonia, the favorite. Marmaduke was well thought of by many good judges, but could do no better than run third. Polonia won by half a length, with Marmaduke beaten a length for second place. The steeplechase furnished the usual chapter of accidents. Gath and Tonkaway fell in the west field after coming over the club house hill. Gath broke his neck, but his rider escaped without serious injury. Tonkaway was uninjured. Ranger went on with a long lead and won by a hundred yards from Wooster, who jumped safely, but seemed to be troubled with the slows. Abraham came in as far behind Wooster.

In as Iar behind Wooster.

The Press Club Excursion.

The Washington Press club will give its second annual excursion this evening. The steamer Corcoran will convey this club and its guests to Marshall Hall, where dancing will be indulged in, and the return will be made so as to reach Washington by midnight. The Apollo Glee club will enliven the trip down the river with several selections, and a fine band will furnish both dance and promenade music. As this is the first excursion of the season, and as none know better how to cater to the enjoyment of their friends than the members of the Fress club, the attendance should be very large. The Corcoran will leave her wharf at 7:30 p. m.

A Beastly Wretch.

Officer West, of the second precinct, arrested colored man named Milon Herndon last night on the charge of outraging a 12-year-old colored girl named Eliza Johnson. The assault was committed in an empty house on Spring street, in the county. It is reported that Herndon coaxed the girl into the house with a package of candy. The colored citizens of the county are much incensed over the affair. At one time they threatened to lynch Herndon.

Fell Dead,

About 9:30 o'clock last night Lawrence Kelly, a white man, aged 21 years, died suddenly at the boarding house of Mrs. Anderson, 1003 M street southwest. Dr. Herbert was called in, but was unable to save Kelly's life. He supposed that it was a case of heart disease. The coroner has been notified.

WINNING A GAME.

The Washington Nine Do Up the Athleties in a Hard Game.

The Washingtons won a creditable victory over the Athletics in their second game. The champions could do nothing with the pitching of Barr, getting only seven balls beyond the diamond, while their errors proved more costly than those of their opponents. Fennelly, who seems to have recovered his batting form, led off with a clean drive past second, and seered on Humphries's two-bagger. Hawkes sent an easy one to "Saidee" Houck, but Stovey dropped the ball, and Humphries went to third. Gladmon struck as cly, sending Humphries home; a passed ball advanced both men a base, and Hawkes scored the third run on Morgan's sacrifice hit. In the third inning Humphries and Hawkes made safe hits, the former scoring on Morgan's out at first by Stricker's assist. This ended the run getting, the only other chance occurring in the seventh, when Kiley again foolishly ran himself out after reaching third with nobody out. The visitors scored in the second and fourth innings on base hits by O'Brien and errors of Gladmen and Wills; in the unint Barr lost his grip for a few moments and things looked dangerons, O'Brien having worked home on a passed ball and a wild pitch and Hawke's error, and Milligan, after getting his base on balls, [was sont to third by Stricker's hit, when Matthews ended the agony by sending a fly tip into Morgan's hands. Stovey made a fine hit to right center for three bases in the fifth inning, but was left. Gladmon, barring a wild throw, played a fine game, making some wonderful stops. Hawkes, Humphries, Fennelly, and Morgan did well, Fennelly leading at the hat. Houck and Corey did good work for the champions. The attendance was good, considering the counter attraction of the races. The score follows:

"It is a healthy place. The nights are deliciously cool. No mosquitoes, no bar, "no sound of fevelry by night," It is a good place for all who desire a cleanly and cool retreat," [C. J. Stuart Wells, Surgeon, U. S. N. .]

geon, U. S. N. J.

The cool and exhibitating atmosphere, the wild mountain sectory, and fine-drives, the baths and invaluable medicinal waters, with good fare, render a season at Rock Enon a delight not soon to be fornotien. (From James E. Filch, esq., Washington, D. C.) * * * My family and friends who spent the past season at Rock Enon Sigrings unite with one accord in praising the place, the regularity of its recurring evening embertainments, the usual good order, the charming momental scenery, the invigorating air, all of which, together with the virtue of the 'nesling waters,' combine to make this resort one of the most popular in the country. [From Samuel Nor-ment, esq., Washington, D. U.]
